Mailing of stock certificates:

You may choose to mail stock certificates directly to Wells Fargo Advisor, LLC at the address listed above. When mailing stock certificates, please send a fully and properly executed Stock Power under separate cover to Wells Fargo Advisor, LLC with a copy to Westminster College. We strongly recommend that you send stock and stock power via express delivery service or certified mail with return receipt requested. You should retain a date-stamped receipt for tax purposes. The date of the gift for valuation is the date the securities and stock power were accepted by the U. S. Postal Service or private carrier.

How the value of your gift will be determined:

Acknowledgement of your stock gift will be sent within 14 days of receipt of the stock. As appropriate, the value of your gift is the average of the high and low trading prices for the date at which the stock was electronically transferred to Westminster College's account. If you have mailed certificates, the trading date will be the date stamped on the U. S. Postal Service certified mail receipt. If using a private carrier (e.g., UPS, Federal Express), IRS rules recognized the gift date as the date on which the certificates are actually delivered.
